Dear Parents:

Positive Cases of H1N1 continue to be confirmed in many of our surrounding towns, schools and communities. As of yesterday, 22 new cases were identified in Connecticut and new cases are expected. Danbury Public Schools have been notified that a second case of a Danbury student with H1N1 has been identified with a mild case and has recovered well.

We continue to work with our local Health Department and are diligent in tracking any high absenteeism rates or a high incidence of children with flu-like symptoms that would indicate a high prevalence of a viral illness. At this time these cases appear to be isolated and absenteeism rates remain stable. As cases continue to be reported daily on the State Department of Health website, we will not be updating parents of each individual case in the Danbury Public Schools. However, if the Health Department determines that further actions should be taken, parents will be notified immediately.

Please continue to be diligent in keeping your children home from school if they are sick and encouraging frequent hand washing. Additional information on when to keep your child home can be found on our website: www.danbury.k12.ct.us
